

JUSTICE AND EQUITY series

‘Good Business’

A talk by Sebastian Munden

10 am, Saturday 28th January 2012
11, Mandeville Place, London W1U 3AJ

In the third in the series of Justice and Equity series of talks organised by the School’s economics faculty, Sebastian Munden looks at sustainable development, using the packaged goods industry as a model.

The companies making the products that are found in kiosks, shops and supermarkets across the world touch the lives of millions of people every day. Sebastian, who has worked in the industry for over twenty years across the world, will show how it can be made a force for good, as well as for good business.

Entrance free. All most welcome.
